3 Understanding your child's behaviour Time to have a go: Observation

Look closely at what your child does this week. You are thinking about your child's development.

- Can you spot any new things he or she is learning?
- What was the signal your child gave to make you think he or she might do it?
- How do you feel about the new thing your child is doing?
- How do you think your child feels about the new thing he or she is doing?
- What do you think he or she will be learning next?
