

Solihull Approach

The following information includes government agencies that have commissioned Solihull Approach training or publications that reference the Solihull Approach as an example of good practice.

CANparent Quality Mark

Parenting UK accreditation (Part of the DfE's CANparent)

The Solihull Approach has been successful in gaining the CANparent Quality Mark award for the:

- Solihull Approach Understanding your child Group
- Solihull Approach Understanding your child Online course

Parenting UK is part of the Department of Education CANparent programme. Parenting UK states that the CANparent Quality Mark provides a robust and systematic process for measuring the quality of development, delivery and provision of universal parenting classes.

The CANparent Quality Mark is the only quality standard in the parenting sector. It has been developed for the sector, by the sector.

CANparent Government scheme

CANparent is a government scheme taking place between April 2012 – March 2014 where parents or an adult caring for a child aged 0-5 years old (up to the day before the child's 6th birthday) who live in 3 pilot areas of Camden, Middlesbrough and High Peak (Derbyshire) can obtain a parent class voucher. They can use the voucher, which has a value of £100 (before VAT) to attend at one of a range of designated parenting classes. The Solihull Approach is a designated provider in all 3 areas for the 'Understanding your child's behaviour' parenting group.

In addition, the Solihull Approach is in the process of designing an online parenting class that will be available in High Peak.

National Academy for Parenting Practitioners

- The Solihull Approach was commissioned by the National Academy for Parenting Practitioners 2009-2010. The National Academy for Parenting Practitioners' work was decommissioned in 2010, and their work training offer place work was taken over by CWDC from April 2010.

The Solihull Approach is included as an example of good practice in the NICE – Shared Learning: Implementing NICE guidance

Title: Solihull Approach Parenting Group

Description:

Solihull Approach is a 10-week parenting group for parents with children from universal to complex needs and aged 0-18 years. It is based on the Solihull Approach model of containment, reciprocity and behaviour management and uses social learning theory in the design of the parenting programme. It is delivered by two trained professionals from a wide range of professions and agencies through joint working and following a resource manual for parents with children.

The Solihull Approach has been included in the Free Training place offer by the CWDC for 2010-11. The Solihull Approach delivered a fifth of the free training place offer.

- The Children's Workforce Development Council (CWDC) leads change so that the thousands of people and volunteers working with children and young people across England. They advise and work in partnership with different organisations.
- 1000 places - Evidence based parenting programs -Details of our offer of 1000 training places on evidence-based parenting programs. CWDC is pleased to be funding 1000 places on training courses to deliver evidence-based parenting programs over the 2010-11 financial year.
- Who is eligible for training? The 'priority groups' targeted to receive this training are family intervention key workers, practitioners working in Sure Start children's centers and practitioners supporting extended services in schools. In addition, CWDC will consider requests from parenting commissioners for training places for areas of local priority.

- For which programs are places being offered? - The Solihull Approach programs named below were included in the training places offer:

Solihull Approach 1:1 and Solihull Approach Group

- This training provision was previously funded by the National Academy for Parenting Practitioners. In transferring this responsibility, not all the previous providers have been commissioned by us. Incredible Years training has not been made available. That this training is not to be offered has no bearing on its suitability for use; it simply reflects the practical constraints and limited timescale which our offer is now working under. The programs that they offer continue to be highly recommended and remain as such on the Commissioning Toolkit.

What is it? The Toolkit is a searchable database of parenting interventions designed to provide information and guidance for commissioners, service managers and programme developers on the quality and effectiveness of parenting programmes/approaches

http://www.dh.gov.uk/prod_consum_dh/groups/dh_digitalassets/@dh/@en/documents/digitalasset/dh_134574.pdf

This report is for commissioners, practice educators, line managers, service leads and newly qualified health visitors, including all those who have responsibility for the skills, support and experiences of newly qualified health visitors. The purpose is to gain understanding of the current picture, identify areas of good practice, and suggest ways that these can be shared and enhanced.

Solihull Approach included:

Training and Development – Page 17

More specific training will be required for tools, models and care packages of choice in any given local organisation. For example:

- Ages and Stages Questionnaires
- Solihull Approach
- Preparation for Pregnancy Birth and Beyond
- Motivational Interviewing
- Solution Focused Therapy
- Promotional Interviewing

A health visiting career – Page 18

A Health Visiting Career 18 Following feedback from the health visiting teams and higher education institutions in West Midlands, a two day interactive experience has been developed called MARSIS. It combines learning from Solihull Approach, Motivational interviewing and Restorative supervision. It allows professionals to leave with a clear clinical application of the skills from these programmes without the current time commitment. It is particularly aimed at less experienced staff, so would be ideal for newly qualified health visitors to complete in the first two years in post.

A National Framework: for continuous Professional Development for Health Visitors – Standards for the High Impact Areas for Early Years 2015

<http://www.ihv.org.uk/uploads/National%20Framework%20for%20CPD.pdf>

The framework sets out the importance of CPD and identifies guiding principles that should be part of all post qualifying training and development provided for health visitors. It outlines best practice and standards that promote expected knowledge, skills and attitudes in health visitors practice in the delivery of the High Impact Areas for Early Years (DH,2014a).

The Solihull Approach contributed the content of the document and is also referred to within the contents.

http://www.publichealth.hscni.net/sites/default/files/IMH%20Plan%20April%202016_0.pdf

The framework aims:

- to ensure commissioners and policy makers are fully informed of the latest evidence and interventions

- are supported to make the most appropriate decisions based on this knowledge
- ensure all children have the best start in life
- prioritise and support the development of positive social and emotional wellbeing

Page 29

The report states that ‘Commitment has already been made to supporting infant mental health training including the Solihull Approach’

The Solihull Approach is identified as part of the Workforce Development: Key Actions

- Expansion of the Solihull Approach and Solihull Approach Plus training across the region targeting 1500 health and social care practitioners to complete training and attend practice network meeting. Training for Trainers model used
- This will be further complemented through Solihull Early Intervention Combined Foundation and Ante Natal training programme Transformation Programme supporting Midwives taking part in group-based ante natal care and education.
- DE also funding the roll out of Solihull training across Department of Education all Sure Starts in NI.

Transforming Health Outcomes for Children and Families Through Early Implementer Mobilisation: A collection of achievements, learning and insights from the Department of Health's Early Implementer Site Mobilisation Programme 2011-13

Case example of using Solihull Approach in Antenatal visits in Blackpool (Blackpool Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust) as part of Early Implementer Site Programme]

“Doing the Antenatal contact has made a huge impact on building positive relationships with parents; it breaks the initial barrier and develops rapport and is the starting point that influences the relationships between me as a health visitor and the parents. It is a great opportunity to complete the initial family profile assessment and introducing the health visiting services. This allows me to spend quality time postnatally focusing on parents and the newborn - I have found that having done antenatal contact this allows me to complete newborn observation which allows the parents to identify their newborn strengths and discuss any issues that the parents want to discuss, promotes awareness of baby cues.

I use the Solihull Approach during the antenatal contacts when discussing 'communicating with your baby' - some parents reply with enthusiasm on how they talk to their baby bump, and some have got names. One lady first time parent was surprised by my question about communicating with the bump saying that the unborn can't 'hear' - following this I have been able to support this mum at home with bonding and attachment - invited her to baby massage course starting at the sure start next month. Hoping to promote her confidence and bonding with the baby."
